A large industrial warehouse with high ceilings and concrete floors. The space is filled with industrial equipment, primarily drill bits. In the foreground, a wooden pallet holds several drill bits in various colors: green, blue, and grey. Each bit has a complex, multi-toothed design. Behind this pallet, more pallets of similar bits are arranged in rows, receding into the distance. To the left and right, tall metal shelving units are filled with more drill bits, organized on wooden pallets. In the background, a white car is parked under a large, closed metal roll-up door. The overall scene depicts a well-stocked inventory of industrial drilling tools.
